

Sushanta Mallick is a Professor of International Finance at the School of Business and Management, Queen Mary, University of London, UK. He holds a PhD in economics from the University of Warwick, UK. Before joining Queen Mary in October 2006, he held positions at Department of Economics, Loughborough University, UK [2003-2006]; at the Royal Institute of International Affairs (Chatham House), London, UK [2001-2003]; at JPMorgan Chase (previously Chase Manhattan Bank), based in Hong Kong [1999-2001], and at the Institute for Social and Economic Change (with a year at Indian Statistical Institute), Bangalore, India [1991-1995] where he began his research career, followed by a Commonwealth Scholarship to study for a Ph.D. in economics [1995-1998] at the University of Warwick, UK. In addition to publishing a book from his Ph.D. research (Ashgate Publishing, 1999), he has contributed articles to nine edited volumes along with publishing widely in many international refereed journals. He has over 50 peer-reviewed journal articles to his credit, focusing on applied econometric modelling in the area of international economics & finance, and development studies. Some of his recent publications include articles in Review of Income and Wealth, Journal of International Money and Finance, Economics Letters, Financial Markets, Institutions and Instruments, Macroeconomic Dynamics, Europhysics Letters (EPL), Journal of the Operational Research Society, Economic Modelling, Journal of International Financial Markets, Institutions & Money (JIFMIM), Journal of Development Studies, Journal of Macroeconomics, Review of International Economics, Cambridge Journal of Economics, IMF Staff Papers, International Journal of Finance and Economics, Physica A, and Scottish Journal of Political Economy. His main research interests include issues in international macroeconomics and finance. [See his published research at <http://webspace.qmul.ac.uk/skmallick/>] [Email: s.k.mallick@qmul.ac.uk]