

Dr. Axel Lindner is deputy head of the Department of Macroeconomics at the Halle Institute for Economic Research (IWH). He works on macroeconomic forecasting with a particular focus on the euro area and has published in journals such as the Review of International Economic and the Scandinavian Journal of Economics.

Axel Lindner made a diploma and received a doctorate's degree in economics at the University of Munich. He was visiting professor at Concordia University (Montreal) and visiting scholar at Queen's University (Kingston, Canada).