

CALL FOR PAPERS

25th Annual Research Conference

De Nederlandsche Bank, Amsterdam***

November 10-11, 2022

Inflation Strikes Back: Drivers and Policy Reactions

The focus of the conference is on driving factors of inflation and challenges for central banks in light of recent economic developments. We aim to provide a platform for researchers from academia, central banks, and other policy institutions to present and discuss their findings related to inflation dynamics.

Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Inflation expectations and inflation dynamics
- Fiscal policy and inflation dynamics
- Supply shocks and the policy response to supply shocks
- The global supply side of inflationary pressures
- Drivers of inflation in the post-pandemic world
- The optimal inflation target
- Price-setting and inflation
- The welfare costs of inflation

Keynote Speakers

Fernando Alvarez (University of Chicago) and

Lucrezia Reichlin (London Business School and IFRS Foundation)

Policy Panel

Oscar Arce (ECB), Janet Henry (HSBC), and Argia Sbordone (NY FED)

Including contributions from Klaus Adam (University of Mannheim) and Jordi Galí (CREI – Pompeu Fabra).

Paper submission and important dates

We invite the submission of high quality theoretical and empirical contributions.

Manuscripts should be submitted to DNB\_ResearchConference@dnb.nl by the 31st of August 2021.

Authors of accepted papers will be notified by the 15th of September 2021.

Organizing committee

Guido Ascari, Paolo Bonomolo, Andra Smadu, Emmanuel de Veirman, Razvan Vlahu

*In case the Covid-19 pandemic does not permit it, the conference will take place online